CELEBRATING 89 YEARS 1933-2022

May Meeting.

Our May meeting was well attended with over 30 in the room and several by Zoom. There were still some problems with the new club computer and the Zoom software that could not be resolved at the time. We apologize to those who tried to attend on Zoom—we think we can now fix the remaining problems so please keep trying!

The main events for the evening were a book sale organized by Lisa Janz (see below), a small Bid Board of 20 lots and a Members' Swap night. Lisa raised over $90 for the club from the sale, there will be other chances to buy or win some of these books in the coming months.

Several members brought material to sell or swap and seemed to be quite successful. There will be another opportunity to do this in January 2023. Eleven of the 20 lots in the Bid Board put together by Bob Reynolds sold raising just under $100 for the Club.

June Meeting and Club Auction.

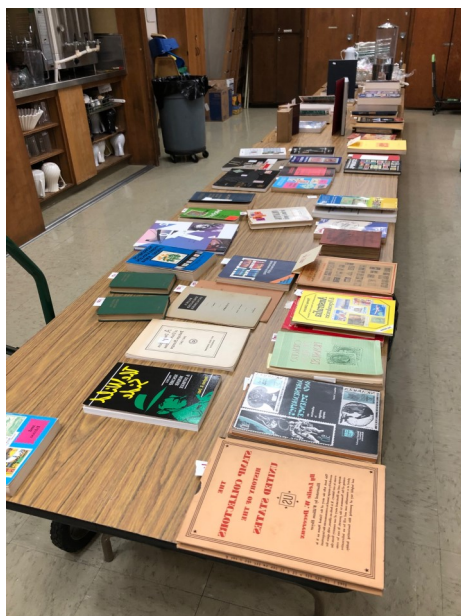

The June auction includes some very nice lots such as $1, $2 and $3 Columbians and many more choice items. Details of the 75 lots are given below together with scanned images of selected lots. Members will be able to bid in person or remotely by Zoom.

Later in the meeting Rodney Stent will present a "Show & Tell" item entitled "The Picture Extends Beyond the Stamp."

Mike Braet is always looking for contributions by members who are willing to talk about interesting or unusual items from their collections. Please contact him if you would like to do this.

New Member.

We welcome Bog Grosch to the society. He currently lives in Redding, CA but will be moving to the Salem area some time this year. His collecting interests include the World before 1955, U.S. until 1995, Plate Varieties on U.S. engraved issues, and Boston Negative Cancels from 1878-1883. He looks forward to being an active of the Society and we look forward to meeting him.

PIPEX 2022

An Innovative Innovation Award

This year the PIPEX stamp show established a new award to recognize innovation in exhibiting, either innovation in exhibiting techniques and formats or new and unconventional exhibiting areas or topics. PIPEX named the award for George Struble; the PIPEX exhibits chair since 2014, who has done innovative things with his own exhibits and has also been a leader in developing virtual stamp shows. Thanks to George's leadership and the script developed by PIPEX's webmaster, Bill Seymour, PIPEX 2021 was the first, and to date only, World Series of Philately (WSP) virtual national show. George is also the driving force in PIPEX hosting a "hybrid" (in-person and virtual exhibits) show in 2023.

When George learned of the award being named after him, he felt greatly honored. But he continued, "If the award is to recognize innovation, the award itself should be innovative, not just a plaque, a certificate, a medal, or a ribbon." He gathered some miscellaneous bits of hardware and made a thingamabob, which he had mounted on a plaque; after all, something has to tell what it is! His friend Norma Nielson objected, "But your name isn't Bob; this is a thingamageorge!"

At the PIPEX awards ceremony on April 30, the first winner of the award was announced as Paul Schumacher for his exhibit "1874a," "a personal account of his connection with the color-omitted error sheet of the 1981 Everett Dirksen stamp and his role in having it listed in the Scott catalog as number 1874a." Mike Ley, the chief judge, explained how Schumacher's exhibit stood out as innovative by telling "the interesting story about the exhibitor's personal efforts to get an error listed and his subsequent study of other examples of the error as they came on the market." As Ley noted, "This not something we normally see." Schumacher's British Sudan collection and his numerous exhibits on various areas of Sudan philately have also been part of his major undertakings over the years.

You can view the whole exhibit at the PIPEX website pipexstampshow.org. Schumacher was not at the PIPEX show himself, so there is no photo of him receiving the award. But we have photos of George Struble and then Paul Schumacher, both holding the award.

The award is to be made annually. Fittingly, the award itself will be different every year. The 2023 award has already been crafted by Keith Janz, husband of Lisa Janz, a PIPEX committee member. Keith has a very capable workshop; Struble claims that the 2023 award is better than what he created.

Roger Brody, the PIPEX 2022 Grand Award winner, says he wants to return to PIPEX in 2023 to win the award himself!
